CHESSE Minister!

October 2020

NEW SEASON

The new season officially begins on 1st October. You can start your games as soon as you receive this, or stagger the starting dates as outlined on the Fixture list page. See that page for when rounds must start by, but note that whenever you start a game, time begins to count straight away to bring all our games into line with those played on Scheming Mind.

League playing members have dropped with Mike Smith & Brian Stephenson withdrawing. This has left Divisions 2 rather small. I did canvas players with email about this to see if they would prefer two Divisions of 7 & 6, or the same structure as present with Divisions 2 having only 3 players each, and the latter was slightly preferred.

At the suggestion of Austin Lockwood of Scheming Mind I did consider trying the Silli system but operating it was going to be complicated for little gain. I had already rejected the Swiss system on the basis that unless all our players are on Scheming Mind (so that we know games will be completed in a reasonable time frame) this would not work as rounds follow serially. Besides, unless the membership were to change I think this would quite soon become a sterile exercise as the result would likely be the same year on year. If members really think it a good idea we could possibly run a single division Swiss tournament over two years as a one-off experiment.

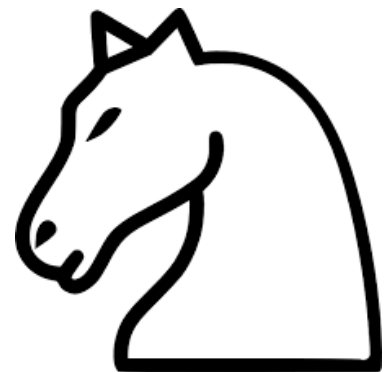

Non-league members should make direct contact with another to arrange a friendly game if required.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Subscriptions remain unchanged this year. If you are not a Life Member you can become one for £80. Otherwise your annual subscription is now due and for the coming year that is set at £6.50 Please send subs. direct to our Treasurer as sending them via me increases postage costs. Alternatively you can pay online as follows:

Bank	Santander plc
Sort Code	09-01-56
Account No.	12314006
Account Name	Clergy Correspondence Chess Club

If you make payments by this method, please use your name as a reference so that Charles can identify the payment, and please email him to let him know it's coming and what it's for (eg subs, Scheming Mind, book purchase, etc).

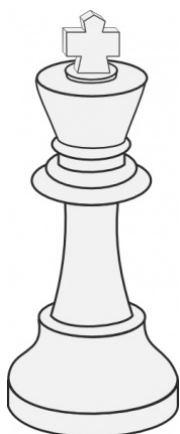

GAMES

As always, my thanks to Michael Thistlewood for preparing the games for the magazine, and to those who send them in. Any score sheet sent in will be considered for publication unless you say you do not want this, but please consider sending in your games with annotations, which are more instructive to other members.

NEWS OF MEMBERS

Sadly we must report the death of Brian Shephard in May. His obituary is in this issue.

Tim Partridge has moved to Flat 419, St Crispin Retirement Village, NORTHAMPTON. NN5 4RA.

SCHEMING MIND STANDARD CHESS LEAGUE

The last issue saw us finely poised at 3-2 ahead of Mexico and we went on to beat them $5\frac{1}{2} - 4\frac{1}{2}$. We were 0-1 behind International Chess Friends, and that match remains close at 2-3. At the time of writing we are just about to begin against Tim Cymru (Team Wales), after which there will be only one further round to play. Although we are shown as 4th in our Division, we currently have the same number of points as the top three, but trail slightly on 'goal difference.'

RATINGS

Since the British Federation for Correspondence Chess split into English, Welsh & Scottish Federations it also stopped rating players so that unless you take part in a tournament recognised by the ICCF (or have an OTB Grade) few of our players have had ratings in recent years, except of course for those who play on Scheming Mind. Following a question from a member about these ratings I thought I would offer a further explanation of them and this appears in this magazine.

FACEBOOK GROUP

A reminder of our Facebook Group, which could provide an easy way of reporting results and keeping up to date with anything going on.

All results are posted on our Facebook page as soon as I am notified of them so this is by far the best way to keep up with progress in our Leagues.

Simply search on Facebook for Clergy Correspondence Chess Club, then select Ask to Join and next time I am on Facebook I will approve it and you are in.

CONGRATULATIONS TO STEPHEN DUNNING CCCC CHAMPION 2019/2020

Stephen Dunning scored 100% to take his first Championship, and beat multiple champion David Hulme into second place. David Hulme won his other games, and the Division continued with symmetry with David Nye taking 3rd place with 2 points ahead of Michael Williamson. Mike Smith had to withdraw before the season was completed.

Division 2A also saw a 100% winning score by Andrew Yates with Bruce Carlin 2nd ahead of Richard Cleaves and Tim Partridge.

Brian Stevenson won Division 2B, dropping just half a point to John Loxton, who finished 3rd behind David Lowe but ahead of Michael Thistlewood.

THE CURRENT SEASON : 2020 / 2021

Officially our season runs from October to July, but you can start your games as soon as you receive this, or by the dates given for each round on the Fixtures page. This allows those playing by phone or email to delay some of their games until November, and for those playing on the Scheming Mind webserver to delay some even until January next year as the time limit is strictly applied.

Whichever method you choose it is your responsibility to make sure that all games are completed by 31st July 2021 and results reported to me.

The Divisions for the season are on the next page. These contain up to five players, some fewer to even out numbers. Each player plays each other in their Division 2 games, once with White pieces, once with Black. The player to the left of the 'v' on the fixtures list should normally begin game 1 as White. If you haven't heard from an opponent by the due date please chase them up first, and contact the Secretary if you still fail to make contact.

At the end of the season two players are relegated from Division 1 to be replaced by the winners of 2A and 2B. If there are sufficient players then the bottom placed player of 2A and 2B will be relegated to Division 3 to be replaced by the top two in that Division. Adjustments may be made at the Secretary's discretion to take account of withdrawals or returns to league play.

Algebraic notation must be used unless both players agree to use another.

Ties are decided initially by the Baumbach Tie Break, then the Sonneborn-Berger Tie Break in accordance with ICCF procedures. These have been explained before but if you are not clear what these systems are then email the Secretary or send him a stamped envelope for enlightenment...

The time columns on the score sheet are: 'R' is the date that you received your opponent's move; 'S' is the date you send your reply; 'T' is the total time used to date. This way you and your opponent can immediately see where you stand in relation to the time limit.

You may play your games on Scheming Mind, or communicate your moves by post, telephone, fax, or e-mail, but with the recent increases in postage costs I suspect that will now be the least popular method, though if you are playing by phone an occasional exchange of the score card can help to make sure a mistake in notation has not been made. If using the phone please try not to keep your opponent waiting while you find pen and paper and be clear in your notation, perhaps using the phonetic alphabet when reading moves.

If playing by post, phone or email the time limit is 20 days for each 10 moves, time saved is carried forward, same day reply counts as nil, but every day counts including Sundays and Bank Holidays. Each player can have 14 days off during a game after notifying their opponent, additional time off for special need can be granted by the Secretary on request. If your opponent exceeds the time limit you can claim the game but you must do this as soon as the time control is broken or you lose the right to claim unless a later one is also broken. In order to avoid anyone exploiting technology to make same day replies impossible (e.g. by emailing or faxing at 2359 hours) the convention is that a move by email or phone is considered to be received the day after it was sent, as if it were a perfect first class letter (I believe there still are such things).

If you are playing on Scheming Mind webserver then the time limit is 30 days plus 1 day per move made, and this is maintained by the web server along with holiday leave etc. and it doesn't allow any leeway so if you break the time limit you lose!

Please try to complete your games by 31st July as it does ease our administration. It will help me in the event of tie breaks being needed if you tell me whether you were playing White or Black along with each result. If you cannot then a game may be submitted for adjudication but there is a charge for this for us to have access to the BFCC adjudication panel.

Titles are omitted in this list to ensure that everyone fits on one line (everyone is at least The Rev'd.). If the POST TOWN is in upper case and the postcode is used there is no need to state the County. That is if anyone addresses letters anymore!

CCCC Fixture List 2020 / 2021

Players are free to start their games as soon as they receive this magazine, and there is nothing to stop you playing all your games simultaneously as has traditionally been done. However the quality of play may be improved if games are staggered so that we are not playing 8 games at once (in addition to any others we might be playing).

If you are playing by post you must start all games as soon as possible and at least by October 1st. If you are transmitting your moves by phone or email you can stagger the start of your games according to the table below, and if you are playing on the Scheming Mind webserver where the time limit is strictly enforced you can stagger them even further. Since playing time on Scheming Mind starts as soon as you begin a game, this must now apply to all our games.

In the list the player to the left of the 'v' plays White in Game 1 and is responsible for starting the games. When reporting results please let me know whether you were white or black in case of tie breaks later on.

Divisions 2 & 3 have only 3 Rounds, but they are designated Rounds 1,3,4 so that starting dates can be staggered.

e-mail addresses & Scheming Mind aliases

This list has the email addresses of all members who have advised me of them. Please do make sure you inform me if you change your email address.

It also includes aliases for those who have joined the Scheming Mind web site. If you wish to play your games using the Scheming Mind webserver then the player who is white should challenge the player who is black. If your opponent has restricted the number of games he is willing to play you may initially be refused, but the best solution is for each of us to create a 'buddy list' and add the other CCCC members to this and then allow challenges from anyone on your buddy list.

BRIAN SHEPHARD

Brian Shephard died in May, but as a result of the lockdown I did not get to know this in time for the last magazine.

Trained for the ministry at Wycliffe Hall, Brian served curacies in Wigan & Kidderminster before moving into teaching, first at the Church Army Training College, and later a College of Education. In 1977 he moved to the Isle of Man, where (apart from a brief return to Church Army) he remained for the rest of his life, first as Chaplain of the Buchan School, later as Vicar of parishes in the north of the island, before retiring to Port St. Mary.

Brian was a long standing member of CCCC, and it was he who came up with the title of this magazine.

Is Chess Racist?

During the black lives matter campaign, while statues were being defaced or torn down, the Australian Broadcasting Authority proposed a debate on the subject of whether chess is racist. Why? Because White always moves first.

Apparently this rule only dates back to the mid nineteenth century, although it is thought to have its origins in medieval times, strangely given the current controversy, because black was seen to be a lucky colour and allowing white to move first was a countermeasure to this.

The idea of changing the rule was aired in a discussion last year between Grandmasters Magnus Carlsen and Anish Giri to mark the UN Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination. Carlsen admitted that the rule was never about race, but suggested it could be broken to send a message.

Without wishing to muddy the waters further I add a quotation from George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four. Winston Smith, after his interrogation, is in the Chestnut Tree Café.

He examined the chess problem and set out the pieces. It was a tricky ending, involving a couple of knights. 'White to play and mate in two moves.' Winston looked up at the portrait of Big Brother. White always mates, he thought with a sort of cloudy mysticism. Always, without exception, it is so arranged. In no chess problem since the beginning of the world has black ever won. Did it not symbolise the eternal, unvarying triumph of Good over Evil?

CHESS RATINGS

International Chess uses the Elo Rating system, named after its inventor, Arpad Elo, a Hungarian born American Physics Professor who also happened to be rather a good chess player. It is a method of Rating players relative to each other and by implication a way of predicting the likely outcome of a game.

If you are a member of a chess club you might have a Rating from the English (or Scottish or Welsh) Chess Federation; if you play internationally you might get one from the world governing body, FIDE. But the National Correspondence Federations no longer give Ratings so only members who take part in events recognised by the International Federation will gain a CC Rating, but I am not aware that any of our current members has one.

Those of us who play our games on the Scheming Mind web site do have a Rating. This is based on Elo, but refined by the Glicko system, so your Rating should relate to International Chess Ratings, though it is only generated from games played on Scheming Mind.

To give an idea of where you stand in the overall scheme of things, FIDE's top 100 International players range from around 2870 to 2650, while our current Scheming Mind Team has ratings from around 2230 to 1280.

Your Rating varies according to the results of your games. In simple terms if you beat someone with a higher rating yours will go up, if you lose to someone with a lower one it will go down. But it is more complicated than that, and if you want to know more have a look at the websites at the end of this article.

Glicko also takes into account how reliable your rating is, and this is where the figure in brackets in your SM rating comes in. You are allocated a rating after one or two games, but really this does not say much about your playing strength compared with someone with the same rating earned from a hundred games. So the figure in brackets is the player's 'Rating Deviation', and tells us the confidence we can have in a rating - the highest value for RD is 350 which suggests the rating isn't much more than a 'best guess,' while the lowest value is 30 which means that the player's rating is well established. RD also increases with inactivity, so if you don't play a game for a few years, although your rating will not change we become less certain about the accuracy of it, so your RD is gradually increased.

Your Rating is updated monthly on Scheming Mind taking into account any results in the last month. You can see your Rating on your Profile page: My Details > View my Profile > Ratings gives your present Rating and a graph of its history. Similarly you can search for any other Player on the database and view their Rating. The Rating of someone you are playing appears below their name on the Game page.

The current (August 2020) Ratings for CCCC members that I know are on SM are:

2231	(101)	Mike Smith
2017	(129)	David Hulme
1909	(122)	Andrew Yates
1673	(127)	David Lowe
1649	(115)	Lisa Battye
1620	(87)	David Nye
1576	(116)	Bruce Carlin
1524	(121)	Tim Partridge
1424	(137)	Richard Cleaves
1288	(241)	Peter Turnbull
1258	(122)	Michael Thistlewood
